Part 3: Letters of Recommendation

Please submit 2 letters of recommendation. One letter should be written by your supervisor and describe your overall suitability for this scholarship. The other letter should be written by someone that can describe your teaching interests and/or abilities (e.g., a lab coordinator, Professor who has supervised a course the applicant has taught in, or a teaching mentor). Letters should be emailed directly by the referee to chemgrad@ualberta.ca

Part 4: Teaching Accomplishments and Philosophy

- In no more than 300 words, discuss your teaching accomplishments and philosophy.

Part 5: Research Productivity (Do not submit your publications)

A. Refereed publications

- List books, book chapters and articles appearing in refereed publications or conference proceedings first, beginning with the most recent.
- List publications of which you are the author or co-author and which are published, in press, and/or accepted for publication in refereed journals.
- Begin each entry on a new line and provide complete bibliographic notices (including co-authors, title, publisher, journal, volume, date of publication, number of pages, etc) as they appear in the original publication. Specify your role in co-authored publications. Forthcoming publications should be listed only if they have been formally accepted for publication (indicate date of acceptance by the editor).
- Place an asterisk (*) in front of each entry that has been generated while in the graduate program in the Department of Chemistry.

Check if this section is not applicable, i.e., you have no refereed publications.

type or copy/paste your listing here, using a 10 pt font such as Times or Helvetica; formatting such as italics may be used; you will need to scroll to the next section rather than tabbing

B. Non-refereed contributions and presentations

- List papers in non-refereed journals, book reviews, reports, and conference presentations.
- Begin each entry on a new line and provide complete bibliographic notices (including co-authors, title, publisher, journal, volume, date of publication, number of pages, etc.) as they appear in the original publication. Specify your role in co-authored publications and conference presentations. Forthcoming contributions should be listed only if they have been formally accepted for publication.
- For conference presentations indicate whether it was an oral or poster presentation.
- Group your entries together; i.e., publications, then conference presentations, then reports, etc.
- Place an asterisk (*) in front of each entry that has been generated while in the graduate program in the Department of Chemistry.

Check if this section is not applicable, ie. You have no non-refereed contributions.
