DINING OUT

This month the last Thursday falls on Halloween night so Peggy has made our reservation for the following Thursday, November 7. The restaurant is called Homefire Grill and is situated at 18210 100 Ave. NW. The booking is for 6:30 as usual. The menu has some indigenous influences which some of you may enjoy exploring. Parking is free and right in front of the restaurant.

Please let me know at peggyallegretto@gmail.com if you plan to come by Tuesday, November 5. Peggy will look forward to seeing you there.

BOOK CLUB

The next meeting of the Book Club takes place on Wednesday, November 20th at 2:30 pm in Room 1-46 of University Terrace (8303 112 Street). The discussion of The House of Doors by Tan

Twan Eng will be led by Richard Young. Members may participate either in-person or online. Beverly O'Brien (bo1@ualberta.ca) will send a Zoom link beforehand for those wishing to join virtually. If you wish to join the group, please contact Vivien Bosley at

WEBINARS OF INTEREST

CURAC informs us of the following presentation

Date & Time: Wednesday October 30, 2024 @12 noon Eastern

Time (ET)

Topic: Halloween's Complex History

Speaker: Dr. Nicholas Rogers, Distinguished Research Professor Emeritus, Department of History, Faculty of Liberal Arts and Professional Studies

Description: Although Halloween is now a holiday without an official patron, in the medieval era it was a religious commemoration of death. Over time, its links to bereavement, harvest festivals, and youthful mischief have become increasingly attenuated. Today, it is a holiday of spooks and consumerism that draws mostly from Hollywood. This brief talk traces the transitions of the holiday, from Celtic Britain to contemporary North America.
