The broad objective of our Fall 2021 Symposium is to promote ethical engagement and critical reflection on how we as a society have responded and continue to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. To achieve this goal, we are gathering together individuals with varied disciplinary perspectives and different content expertise. We have chosen topics that have appeared not only in the media but also those that continue to preoccupy health care professionals and other members of our society, recognizing all of our lives have been affected in different ways.
