

Health Ethics Symposium – RURAL AND REMOTE HEALTHCARE ETHICS: Considering Issues for the Past, Present, and Future

Tuesday, November 28, 2023, 3:00- 6:00 PM MST

AGENDA Overview

Virtual presentations via Zoom. Zoom link

Type of Session	Time	Title of Session	Speakers/Facilitators	Description/Objectives
Welcome	3:00-3:10	Opening Remarks	Michael van Manen
Session 1	3:10-4:00	Celebrating Rurality: Embracing Rural Health Ethics	Christy Simpson / Fiona McDonald  Facilitator: Michael van Manen	At the end of this session, participants will be able to: a) identify how traditional ethical theories and approaches can be enhanced by embracing rural perspectives; b) critically reflect on common assumptions/stereotypes about rural life and how these impact upon ethical health care practice; c) discuss the value of relationships, community, and place.
Session 2	4:00-4:50	Health Ethics and the Rural Health Professional	Jill Konkin  Facilitator: Michael van Manen	The realities for health professionals living lives and working in rural communities bump into urban health ethics, Codes of Conduct and professionalism expectations that do not fit the context. Building on the work of Simpson and McDonald and others this presentation will be a practical look at rural realities and how rural health professionals are able to navigate these in an ethical way.
Session 3	4:50-5:50	Panel Discussion	Ashraf Aborawi / Tracey Bailey / Brendan Leier / Kevin Yang  Facilitators: Erin Busaan & Jesse Lineham
Wrap-Up	5:50-6:00	Closing Remarks	Michael van Manen	