(In-person presentation)

The name of Liubov Panchenko (1938-2022) became widely known after her tragic demise during the notorious occupation of Bucha. She was born and spent her entire life in this town, near to Kyiv.

Panchenko was a multi-thematic artist who worked in various genres. Her collages, however, mark the heyday of her talent. In these artworks, Panchenko included protest motifs, which she had not resorted to before. Nataliia Yesypenko will explain the versatility of Panchenko's talent. She will lead us through the path of the artist's growth and immerse Kule Folklore lunch attendees in the beautiful world of landscapes, colours and textures of Panchenko's works. Nataliia will demonstrate more and less-known examples, including a few original posters that are housed in the Bohdan Medwidsky Ukrainian Folklore Archives collections.
