Acker, Jason Paul	Teaching	Local - university	Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry	Tier 1 FoMD Mentoring Award	Mentoring is the foundation for development of the next generation of scientists and health researchers. The Annual Award for Excellence in Mentoring has been designed to recognize outstanding performance in the mentoring of research trainees in the Faculty of Medicine & Dentistry at the University of Alberta. Mentoring of research trainees is distinct and separable from the usual measures of research productivity and classroom or workplace teaching. Mentoring is more than simply sharing knowledge and being a role model, as it includes provision of support and encouragement. Mentors challenge trainees to reach their full potential through goal-setting and self-evaluation. Furthermore, mentors respect and support all trainees under their supervision.	2020-05-28
