Course Description and Objectives:

An introduction to major works of the world's literary heritage, presented in their historical, social, and cultural contexts. Our survey will cover a variety of genres from the seventeenth century to the present. Not open to students with credit in C LIT 100.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

At the end of this course, successful students should be able to:

- Define "world literature" and understand the processes whereby a literary work enters that category (canonization).

- Describe theoretical concepts, issues, and approaches in world literature and develop appropriate vocabulary to explore them.
- List and briefly discuss a variety of world literature texts and authors from the seventeenth century to the present, placing them in their appropriate social, cultural, and political context.
- Perform close readings of selected passages of world literature texts with special attention to the literary devices they employ.
- Perform an individual reading of a world literary text or texts of your choice, analyzing stylistic features and meanings.

Explanatory Notes on Assignments:

Since this course is primarily based on the discussion of texts and films, students are required to attend class properly prepared, having done the readings and/or viewing specified on the Class Schedule. Other recommended books may be placed on Reserve at Rutherford Library.

Attendance and active participation in class discussion will determine 12% of the grade.

Students will hand in 3 short (1-2 pp) reaction papers on the date of their choice based on readings/viewing scheduled for that week. A maximum of two papers may be handed in in one month, with ideally one paper per month. These are your own reflections on the assigned readings for the course. They should demonstrate you have read and reflected on the readings/viewings and that you engage meaningfully with them.

One midterm exam will be given on Tuesday, February 13, based on material from the first half the semester. One final exam, based on material from the second half of the semester, will take place on Tuesday, April 24 at 9:00 a.m. Both exams will comprehensively test the student's grasp of the material as well as the student's ability to take that knowledge and apply it in a discussion of certain related topics. (See dates above.)

A final paper based on a topic chosen by the student in consultation with the instructor will be due on the last day of classes, Thursday, April 12. The final paper topic must be approved in writing by the instructor through submission of an abstract by the student at a date TBA.

The essay will be between 6-8 typed double-spaced pages, as well as contain bibliography and notes in correct format. (The mechanics of the paper should conform to the MLA or Chicago Manual of Style format.). The due date for the paper will be the last day of class, Thursday, April 12. Essays not handed in on this day will lose 1% per day.

If you have any questions and/or problems regarding the course, I am available during my office hours or by appointment.

Further details of assignments will also be discussed in the course of the semester and detailed instructions will be posted on eClass.

Required Notes:

“Policy about course outlines can be found in the Evaluation Procedures and Grading System of the University Calendar.”

Academic Integrity:

“The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour (online at www.governance.ualberta.ca) and avoid any behaviour that could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University.”

Learning and Working Environment:

The Faculty of Arts is committed to ensuring all students; faculty and staff are able to study and work in an environment that is safe and free from discrimination and harassment. It does not tolerate behaviour that undermines that environment. The Department urges anyone who feels that this policy has been or is being violated to:

- Discuss the matter with the person whose behaviour is causing concern; or
- If that discussion is unsatisfactory, or there is concern that directs discussion is inappropriate or threatening, discuss it with the Chair of the Department.

For additional advice or assistance regarding this policy you may contact the Office of the Student Ombuds. Information about the University of Alberta Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures is described in UAPPOL.

Academic Honesty:

All students should consult the information provided by the Student Conduct & Accountability Office regarding avoiding cheating and plagiarism in particular and academic dishonesty in general (see the Academic Integrity Undergraduate Handbook and Information for Students). If in doubt about what is permitted in this class, ask the instructor.

Students involved in language courses and translation courses should be aware that on-line “translation engines” produce very dubious and unreliable “translations.” Students in languages courses should be aware that, while seeking the advice of native or expert speakers is often helpful, excessive editorial and creative help in assignments is considered a form of “cheating” that violates the code of student conduct with dire consequences.

An instructor or coordinator who is convinced that a student has handed in work that he or she could not possibly reproduce without outside assistance is obliged, out of consideration of fairness to other students, to report the case to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. See the Academic Discipline Process.

Recording of Lectures:

Audio or video recording, digital or otherwise, of lectures, labs, seminars or any other teaching environment by students is allowed only with the prior written consent of the instructor or as a part of an approved accommodation plan. Student or instructor content, digital or otherwise, created and/or used within the context of the course is to be used solely for personal study, and is not to be used or distributed for any other purpose without prior written consent from the content author(s).

Attendance, Absences, and Missed Grade Components:

Regular attendance is essential for optimal performance in any course. In cases of potentially excusable absences due to illness or domestic affliction, notify your instructor by e-mail within two days. Regarding absences that may be excusable and procedures for addressing course components missed as a result, consult sections Attendance and Examinations of the University Calendar. Be aware that unexcused absences will result in partial or total loss of the grade for the “attendance and participation” component(s) of a course, as well as for any assignments that are not handed-in or completed as a result.

In this course, attendance and participation will count for 12% of the grade. Please see "Grade Distribution" and "Explanatory Notes on Assignments" above.

Policy for Late Assignments:

Students who consult in advance with an instructor regarding contingencies preventing the timely completion of an assignment may, at the discretion of the instructor, be granted an extension. Otherwise, assignments may be handed in one class-day after the stated deadline without penalty, with a 1%-per-class-day penalty assessed for each subsequent class-day of lateness.

Student Accessibility Services:

If you have special needs that could affect your performance in this class, please let me know during the first week of the term so that appropriate arrangements can be made. If you are not already registered with Student Accessibility Services, contact their office immediately (1-800 SUB; Email sasrec@ualberta.ca; Email; phone 780-492-3381).

Grading:

Assessment of the individual course components may be in the form of numerical marks or letter grades. The final letter grade will be based on "a combination of absolute achievement and relative performance in a class" (University Calendar, Evaluation Procedures and Grading System). The University Grading Procedure mandates that "a student's level of achievement of the goals/outcomes of a course, their grade, and the descriptor of that grade must be aligned" (<https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/>). The following guidelines have been adopted by the Department of Modern Languages and Cultural Studies:

“MLCS Undergraduate Grading Scale”

Descriptor	Letter Grade	Grade Point Value	%

	A	4.0	93-96
	A-	3.7	90-92
Good. B+, B or B- is earned by work that demonstrates a thorough comprehension of the course material and a good command of relevant skills. Grades in the B range are normally achieved by the largest number of students.	B+	3.3	87-89
	B	3.0	83-86
	B-	2.7	80-82
Satisfactory. C+, C or C- is earned by work that demonstrates an adequate grasp of the course material and relevant skills. Grades in the C range designate work that has met the basic requirements of the course.	C+	2.3	77-79
	C	2.0	73-76
	C-	1.7	70-72
Poor/Minimal Pass. D+ or D is earned by work that demonstrates minimal familiarity with the course material. Grades in the D range generally indicate insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the subject matter.	D+	1.3	65-69
	D	1.0	60-64
Failure.	F	0.0	0-59
