Course Description, Objectives and Expected Learning Outcomes:

The course is designed as a survey of representative print adaptations of traditional oral folk tales as well as the genre of literary fairy tale. Students will be introduced to the history and development of folk and fairy tales and will examine a wide range of representative texts from a variety of historical periods and traditions (Late Antiquity; Middle Ages; Renaissance; Romanticism; contemporary feminist and postmodern revisionist adaptations). Students will explore a number of critical approaches to folk tales and fairy tales (structuralism, psychoanalysis, gender studies, cultural studies, pedagogy). Analysis of literary texts will be complemented by film screenings and examples from other media. By the end of this course successful students will be able to identify representative characteristics of oral folk tales; recognize the diverse audiences and ideological functions of literary fairy tales during different historical periods; and present an analysis of the text(s) of their choice in a specific socio-historical context.

Course Format: The objectives of this course will be learned from a combination of formal lectures, assigned readings, class discussions on Zoom, and audiovisual materials.

Required Texts:

Tatar, Maria, ed. The Classic Fairy Tales, 2nd edition, Norton (available at the University Bookstore)

Rowling, J.K. Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone (any format or edition is acceptable)

Explanatory Notes on Assignments:

Critical Response Paper: Each of the two papers is expected to show your critical engagement with the text in question (literary, visual, or critical). Because this is a short assignment, the paper is expected to offer a narrowly focused critical discussion/analysis of a specific aspect of the text of your choice from the class reading list.

Midterm Examination will be a series of short focused answers based on the texts covered in class. This open-book examination assignment will provide a selection of questions to choose from.

Participation mark includes your regular attendance of classes on Zoom, preparedness with readings, and informed participation in class discussions.

Forum posts include scheduled contributions to eClass forums (every 2-3 classes) where you are expected to provide a thoughtful and critical response of 300-350 words to the text(s) of your choice.

Final Assignment will be an open-book exercise similar to Midterm Examination. You will be expected to provide a series of extended focused answers based on the texts covered in class. The assignment will provide a selection of questions to choose from.

More detailed assignment instructions and guidelines will be available on eClass.

Policy about course outlines can be found in the Evaluation Procedures and Grading System of the University Calendar.

Student Responsibilities:Academic Integrity:

The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour and avoid any behaviour that could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University.

All students should consult the Academic Integrity website. If you have any questions, ask your instructor.

An instructor or coordinator who is convinced that a student has handed in work that he or she could not possibly reproduce without outside assistance is obliged, out of consideration of fairness to other students, to report the case to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. See the Academic Discipline Process.

Learning and Working Environment:

The Faculty of Arts is committed to ensuring all students, faculty and staff are able to work and study in an environment that is safe and free from discrimination and harassment. It does not tolerate behaviour that undermines that environment. The Department urges anyone who feels that this policy is being violated to:

- Discuss the matter with the person whose behaviour is causing concern; or
- If that discussion is unsatisfactory, or there is concern that direct discussion is inappropriate or threatening, discuss it with the Chair of the Department.

For additional advice or assistance regarding this policy you may contact the Office of the Student Ombuds. Information about the University of Alberta Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures is described in UAPPOL.

Sexual Violence Policy:

It is the policy of the University of Alberta that sexual violence committed by any member of the University community is prohibited and constitutes misconduct. Resources and more information can be found at <https://www.ualberta.ca/campus-life/sexual-violence>

Territorial Statement:

“The University of Alberta acknowledges that we are located on Treaty 6 territory, and respects the histories, languages, and cultures of the First Nations, Métis, Inuit, and all First Peoples of Canada, whose presence continues to enrich our vibrant community.” (from the beginning of the Calendar).

Recording of Lectures:

Audio or video recording, digital or otherwise, of lectures, labs, seminars or any other teaching environment by students is allowed only with the prior written consent of the instructor or as a part of an approved accommodation plan. Student or instructor content, digital or otherwise, created and/or used within the context of the course is to be used solely for personal study, and is not to be used or distributed for any other purpose without prior written consent from the content author(s).

Attendance, Absences, and Missed Grade Components:

Regular attendance is essential for optimal performance in any course. In cases of potentially excusable absences due to illness or domestic affliction, notify your instructor by e-mail within two days. Regarding absences that may be excusable and procedures for addressing course components missed as a result, consult sections Attendance and Examinations of the University Calendar. Be aware that unexcused absences will result in partial or total loss of the grade for the “attendance and participation” component(s) of a course, as well as for any assignments that are not handed-in or completed as a result.

Deferral of term work is a privilege and not a right; there is no guarantee that a deferral will be granted. Misrepresentation of facts to gain a deferral is a serious breach of the Code of Student Behaviour.

In this course, attendance, preparedness with readings, and participation (which includes contributions to class discussions on Zoom) are required.

Policy for Late Assignments:

Students who consult in advance with the instructor regarding contingencies preventing the timely completion of an assignment may, at the discretion of the instructor, be granted an extension. Otherwise, assignments may be handed in with a 5%-per-day penalty assessed for each day of lateness.

Grading:

Assessment of the individual course components may be in the form of numerical marks or letter grades. The final letter grade will be based on "a combination of absolute achievement and relative performance in a class" (University Calendar, Evaluation Procedures and Grading System). The University Grading Procedure mandates that "a student's level of achievement of the goals/outcomes of a course, their grade, and the descriptor of that grade must be aligned" (<https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/>). The following guidelines have been adopted by the Department of Modern Languages and Cultural Studies:
