Course Description, Objectives and Expected Learning Outcomes:

This course is a practical workshop in the translation from English into Spanish. We will address concepts from translation theory and practice, as well as a variety of textual genres, and grammatical and lexical difficulties. The main emphasis, however, will be on the production and assessment of target texts (TT) from appropriate source texts (ST). The course will be conducted in Spanish, but some readings may be in English. Students are expected to attend all class meetings, do the assigned readings (available on eClass), and unless specified in the syllabus that the assignment will be done in class, students should complete the daily numbered assignments by their due date, submit them to the instructor ahead of time as specified on eClass, and be prepared to discuss them in class. Students are expected to participate actively in class meetings when we will discuss the assignments and readings. Assignments will be available on eClass by assignment number as specified on the day-by-day Class Schedule. The course will include a mandatory Community Service Learning component that will allow students to take what they learn in the classroom into the community. Students will receive academic credit for assignments connected with their Community Service Learning work. Details regarding this component of the course will be discussed in class throughout the semester.

At the end of this course, successful students should be able to:

- Define the basic terms of the elements involved in translation.
- Compare translation as a process and as a product.
- List different translation types and techniques, and their uses.
- Identify the genre, intended audience, and linguistic characteristics of a text and make strategic decisions and decisions of detail for subsequent translation.
- Use a dictionary with skill to determine context-appropriate translations.
- Comment critically on the translation ideas and theories presented in assigned readings.
- Describe translation issues pertinent to consumer-oriented texts, cultural contexts, difficulties posed by dialects and sociolects, and the use of compensation.
- Apply translation knowledge acquired in class to the “real world” work of the CSL placement.
- Assess the merits and shortcomings of different translations of the same text.
- Produce adequate translations of short texts and justify translation choices.

Course Format: Synchronous and asynchronous learning: lectures, practical assignments (in-class and prepared ahead), readings, class discussion, guest presentations, group work.

Components of Course Grade (see “Explanatory Notes”):

|---|--------------|
| Participation: This involves attendance and active participation in discussion (5%); and completion of daily assignments (5%) as specified in the Class Schedule | 10 % |
| Reaction Papers: 5 reaction papers on the assigned readings due on the day reading is listed on schedule. No late reaction papers will be accepted. (2% each) | 10 % |
| Midterm Exam (Wed., Feb. 24): | 20 % |
| Final Project (Fri., April 23): | 30 % |
| Graded Assignments (CSL Material 2, each 15 %) Each graded assignment will be handed in twice: you will receive a version with errors marked and then a final grade, based on the corrected version. Assignment A -- 1st version: March 1; Final version: March 15 Assignment B -- 1st version: March 24; Final version: April 7 | 30 % |
| Total: | 100 % |

Explanatory Notes on Assignments:

Please see "Class description and objectives" above and notes below. Details of assignments will also be discussed in the course of the semester and detailed instructions will be posted on eClass. Please note that when the day is marked "synchronous" you are expected to attend class. When the day is marked "asynchronous," you are free to complete the work posted for that day at your leisure, as long as it's completed before the next class meeting.

Daily Assignments:

These assignments are found on the eClass website by Assignment Number:

- For assignments to be done in class during SYNCHRONOUS sessions, you should download assignment and have a copy available to work on in class along with your dictionary. Those assignments will be completed during class time. No make-ups are available for those assignments.
- For assignments on sessions marked "ASYNCHRONOUS," please complete your assignment and self-correct using the guide provided.
- For assignments labelled "discussion," you should complete your assignment ahead of time and submit it electronically through eClass by 12:30PM of the day it's due for inclusion in the class discussion. Instructions for submission will be discussed in class. The assignment must be sent through the eClass system and then posted on the appropriate Google Doc.

Assignments will receive feedback and be marked as "completed/not completed," and this counts towards your participation mark, although the assignment will not receive a specific grade. For obvious reasons, no late daily assignments will be accepted.

Graded Assignments (CSL material):

There will be 2 of these assignments throughout the semester. The material of these assignments is connected to our CSL placements. You will hand in the first version on the dates specified in the syllabus. I will mark your assignment with indication of the types of mistakes present and give it back to you for correction. You will then hand in a second, final version and the grade will be based on both versions and the extent and effectiveness of your corrections. These assignments must be handed in electronically in double-spaced format. For the final version, you should submit also post the assignment on the appropriate Google Doc. Marks will be deducted for incomplete assignments (missing original, missing corrected copy, electronic copies not submitted and/or not posted electronically as requested).

Reaction Papers:

These are your own reflections on assigned readings for the course. They should demonstrate you have read and understood the ideas in the reading and that you engage critically with them. For readings in English, I will accept the reaction paper in English, and for readings in Spanish I prefer Spanish. If you want to do all your reaction papers in Spanish, that's fine too. The reaction paper should be 1-2 typed, double-spaced pages. You need to complete a total of 5 reaction papers, and each counts for 2% of your grade. They are due before class the day the reading appears on the class schedule. No late papers will be accepted, but there are more readings than required papers. Readings will be available on eClass.

Midterm Exam:

This exam will cover theoretical concepts and practical exercises based on the material covered in the first half of the semester.

Final Project:

The final project will be either an original translation of a text of your choice or a critique of an existing translation. I will ask for a proposal in March and you will need to receive my approval before you can work on the project. More details of the final project will be available ahead of time. The final project should be typed double-spaced and handed in in printed form on the last day of classes. Marks will be deducted for incomplete assignments (missing original, missing introductory essay, etc.)

Explanatory Notes on Experiential Learning

Experiential learning is students' purposeful engagement in direct experience, focused reflection, and authentic assessment in order to promote learners' initiative, increase knowledge, develop skills and strategies, clarify values, and apply knowledge in the real-world setting (adapted from the Association of Experiential Education).

Experiential learning may include Community-service learning, project-based learning, field work, or other type of activity that allows students to apply their knowledge in practice in a multitude of settings inside and outside of the classroom. For more information on experiential learning in MLCS see URL.

In this course, experiential learning will be in the form of the CSL assignments as detailed above under "Explanatory notes on Assignments."

Required Notes:

Policy about course outlines can be found in the Evaluation Procedures and Grading System of the University Calendar.

Student Responsibilities:

Academic Integrity:

The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour and avoid any behaviour that could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University.

All students should consult the Academic Integrity website. If you have any questions, ask your instructor.

An instructor or coordinator who is convinced that a student has handed in work that he or she could not possibly reproduce without outside assistance is obliged, out of consideration of fairness to other students, to report the case to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. See the Academic Discipline Process.

Language and Translation Courses

Students involved in language courses and translation courses should be aware that the use of on-line translation to complete assignments constitutes a form of cheating as the student's own understanding and work is therefore not reflected. Also, students in language courses should be aware that, while seeking the advice of native or expert speakers is often helpful, excessive editorial and creative help in assignments is considered a form of cheating that violates the Code of Student Behaviour.

Learning and Working Environment:

The Faculty of Arts is committed to ensuring all students, faculty and staff are able to work and study in an environment that is safe and free from discrimination and harassment. It does not tolerate behaviour that undermines that environment. The Department urges anyone who feels that this policy is being violated to:

- Discuss the matter with the person whose behaviour is causing concern; or
- If that discussion is unsatisfactory, or there is concern that direct discussion is inappropriate or threatening, discuss it with the Chair of the Department.

For additional advice or assistance regarding this policy you may contact the Office of the Student Ombuds. Information about the University of Alberta Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures is described in UAPPOL.

Sexual Violence Policy:

It is the policy of the University of Alberta that sexual violence committed by any member of the University community is prohibited and constitutes misconduct. Resources and more information can be found at <https://www.ualberta.ca/campus-life/sexual-violence>

Territorial Statement:

“The University of Alberta acknowledges that we are located on Treaty 6 territory, and respects the histories, languages, and cultures of the First Nations, Métis, Inuit, and all First Peoples of Canada, whose presence continues to enrich our vibrant community.” (from the beginning of the Calendar).

Recording of Lectures:

Audio or video recording, digital or otherwise, of lectures, labs, seminars or any other teaching environment by students is allowed only with the prior written consent of the instructor or as a part of an approved accommodation plan. Student or instructor content, digital or otherwise, created and/or used within the context of the course is to be used solely for personal study, and is not to be used or distributed for any other purpose without prior written consent from the content author(s).

Attendance, Absences, and Missed Grade Components:

Regular attendance is essential for optimal performance in any course. In cases of potentially excusable absences due to illness or domestic affliction, notify your instructor by e-mail within two days. Regarding absences that may be excusable and procedures for addressing course components missed as a result, consult sections Attendance and Examinations of the University Calendar. Be aware that unexcused absences will result in partial or total loss of the grade for the “attendance and participation” component(s) of a course, as well as for any assignments that are not handed-in or completed as a result.

Deferral of term work is a privilege and not a right; there is no guarantee that a deferral will be granted. Misrepresentation of facts to gain a deferral is a serious breach of the Code of Student Behaviour.

In this course, participatory attendance and completion of daily assignments will count in sum for 10% of the grade. Please see course description, grade distribution, and explanatory notes on assignments above for details on participation.

Policy for Late Assignments:

Students who consult in advance with an instructor regarding contingencies preventing the timely completion of an assignment may, at the discretion of the instructor, be granted an extension. Otherwise, assignments may be handed in one class-day after the stated deadline without penalty, with a 1%-per-class-day penalty assessed for each subsequent class-day of lateness. No extensions will be granted on the final project.

Disclaimer:

Any typographical errors in this syllabus are subject to change and will be announced in class and posted on eClass. The date of the final examination is set by the Registrar and takes precedence over the final examination date reported in this syllabus.

Student Resources:

The best all-purpose website for student services is: <https://www.ualberta.ca/current-students>.

Accessibility Resources: (1 – 80 SUB)

The University of Alberta is committed to creating work and learning communities that inspire and enable all people to reach their full potential. Accessibility Resources promotes an accessible, inclusive, and universally designed environment. For general information to register for services visit the Accessibility Resources webpage.

The Academic Success Centre: (1-80 SUB)

The Academic Success Centre offers a variety of workshops on effective study and exam strategies. There are in-person and online sessions available for a modest fee.

The Centre for Writers: (1-42 Assiniboia Hall)

The Centre for Writers offers free one-on-one writing support to students, faculty, and staff. Students can request consultation for a writing project at any stage of development. Instructors can request class visits and presentations.

Health and Wellness Support: There are many health and community services available to current students. For more information visit the Health and Wellness Support webpage.

Office of the Student Ombuds:

The Office of the Student Ombuds offers confidential interviews, advice and support to students facing academic, discipline, interpersonal and financial difficulties.

Grading:

Assessment of the individual course components may be in the form of numerical marks or letter grades. The final letter grade will be based on "a combination of absolute achievement and relative performance in a class" (University Calendar, Evaluation Procedures and Grading System). The University Grading Procedure mandates that "a student's level of achievement of the goals/outcomes of a course, their grade, and the descriptor of that grade must be aligned" (<https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/>). The following guidelines have been adopted by the Department of Modern Languages and Cultural Studies:

"MLCS Graduate Grading Scale"

| | | |
|----|--------|--------------|
| A+ | 97-100 | Excellent |
| A | 93-96 | Excellent |
| A- | 90-92 | Excellent |
