University of Alberta International (UAI)

- portfolio of the UAlberta Office of the Provost and Vice-President (Academic)
- supports internationalization of the university
- assists faculty, staff, and prospective partners in developing and signing formal international agreements

https://www.ualberta.ca/why-ualberta/international

University of Alberta International - do you need an agreement?

- Formal agreement not required if there are no financial implications or other university resources involved
- Formal agreement required the partnership commits UAlberta to financial obligations
- the partnership impacts UAlberta's academic standards and programs, such as student mobility programs that involve for-credit courses/research

https://www.ualberta.ca/why-ualberta/international/international-relations/international-agreements/establishing-new-agreements

University of Alberta International - types of international agreements

Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)

- confirms mutual commitment and interest; not legally binding
- broad in scope
- identifies a range of possible collaborative activities between UAlberta and the potential partner
- may be university-wide, Faculty, Department, or other university unit
- generally not signed since the activity is likely covered under the institutional agreement
- signing an MOU does not commit either party to activities, but instead contemplates future collaboration

https://www.ualberta.ca/why-ualberta/international/international-relations/international-agreements/establishing-new-agreements

Types of International Agreements

- Memorandum of Agreement (MOA)
 - more detailed than an MOU
 - outlines the legal and financial responsibilities of each party
 - legally binding so both parties must abide by its terms and conditions
 - usually outlines the specific activities to be undertaken
 - 1. roles and responsibilities of each party
 - 2. period of activity
 - 3. fees and financial matters
 - 4. legal commitments regarding intellectual property, confidentiality, liability, etc.
